All,

I believe the author of this (Chuck Dade) is the guy that takes all of the photographs at the public meetings. I saw him on facebook.

Subject: 15,000 lbs. of PCB's may remain in New Bedford Harbor unless you help.

ALERT:

The EPA is taking steps that would deprive greater New Bedford of a full clean up of the PCB laden Acushnet River.

They want to bury 300,000 cubic yards (2,700,000 cubic feet) of sediment, 15,000 lbs of PCBs in a 650 ft x 650 ft x 47 ft CAD cell excavated below the riverbed.

The public comment period is happening right now: DEADLINE: Sept 10, 2010

Your input is needed.

Don't let Greater New Bedford (gNB) get shorted again, write your comments to the EPA.

Speak Now or forever hold your piece.
